INJURY LAW

Introduction

If you have been injured you may be entitled to compensation.

Strict time limits apply and you must seek urgent advice following an injury to ensure that you do not lose your right to compensation.

Insurers often make small settlement offers to unrepresented and injured people who do not understand the extent of their entitlement to compensation. It is vital that you seek proper advice quickly to understand all your entitlements and how to get them.

We can assist you to ensure that sufficient evidence is obtained, witnesses are located before memories fade, and reports are obtained from appropriate medical experts.

Injured people are often unable to return to work for some time and require assistance in obtaining an interim payment of compensation to help them meet their bills until the final compensation payment can be negotiated and paid.

Road Accidents

Compulsory third party insurance claims can be made where you have been injured in a motor vehicle or as a pedestrian due to the fault of another party. It is vital to get advice and representation as there are many "heads of damages" that can be claimed which you may not be aware of and which the insurance company may not tell you about.

Work Injuries

Recent changes to WorkCover have been introduced having a significant impact on injured workers rights to lump sum compensation, income maintenance payments, and other entitlements. Injured workers should obtain early advice to ensure they receive maximum entitlements.

Public Liability / Slip & Fall

You may be entitled to compensation under the Civil Liability Act which enables an injured person to pursue a negligence claim against the occupier of property whether it be a shopping centre, private residence or other location.

Medical Negligence

Medical negligence claims are generally complicated by reason of medical terminology and need for expert reports substantiating the claim. It is important to obtain early advice from a lawyer for the purpose of assisting you to pursue your claim.
