Introduction

An allegation of having committed a criminal or traffic offence can be a confusing and traumatic experience.

Without proper legal representation the outcome could damage your reputation, career and family.

We offer discreet advice on all police and traffic matters and ensure that you are represented before the Court to achieve the best outcome possible.

What are my rights ?

The most pressing question when placed under arrest is "what are my rights?".

The most important right that you have is the right to have a lawyer present throughout any dealings with Police especially when you are arrested.

We will assist you by providing advice such as:

- Explaining the nature of the alleged crime and your rights and obligations;
- Representing you from arrest to the Trial;
- Explaining the court procedures and providing bail advice;
- Ensuring your rights are protected at all times;
- Protecting you from any intimidation during police interview;
- Explaining your rights whilst in custody.

Types of Offences

We act for clients in a range of police and traffic matters including:

- Driver disqualification;
- Drink or drug driving;
- Assault;
- Theft;
- Fraud;
- Drivers licence appeals;
- Drug;
- Robbery;
- Rape;
- Murder;
- Guilty Pleas;
- Trials.

Representation

The Court system is a complicated process. The type of charge laid by the Police will dictate the process to be undertaken and the maximum penalty that may be imposed. It is important to obtain legal representation to ensure that all avenues of negotiation are exhausted so that the Police do not proceed with inappropriate charges, to negotiate for some or all charges to be dropped, or to agree the facts prior to a guilty plea.

Our Police and Traffic Lawyers have the experience to represent your interest in all dealings with the Police and to advocate your position before the Court. To give yourself the best chance of a fair and just outcome, it is vital that you obtain legal representation from the outset.
